Tamil Nadu poised to be a fintech hub: PTR

Chennai, May 9: Tamil Nadu has historically been a financial services hub and is poised to be a fintech hub, state finance minister Palanivel Thiagarajan said.

While speaking at the Chennai Fintech Meetup, Minister Palanivel Thiagarajan said, "The English speaking educated workforce pool available in Chennai is second to none, and the cost of living and doing business is also lesser than other metros."

With the city also being the most sought after for landing data cables after Mumbai, connectivity is also great, he added. Congratulations!

"As a government, we want to play to our strengths and believe that we should be in the high end innovation and value creation space," he said.

NPCI MD and CEO Dilip Asbe said all payment modes put together, India is currently at around 300 million daily payment transactions. "But we should aspire to be at over a billion a day," he said.

"We have a big plan for Rupay. We think it's still not fully played out to its potential," Asbe said. "We are right now focused on making UPI more resilient to manage the volumes. But we may think of UPI Credit product soon," he added.

Chennai Fintech Meetup Launch aspires to catalyse the fintech ecosystem in the city. The Fintech Meetup is founded by Abhishant Pant. The Chennai edition was supported by M2P Fintech, Indian Bank, NPCI and other partners.

FIA Global, making banking accessible to all

Chennai, May 9: FIA Global has successfully brought millions under the banking umbrella in India over the last decade. The FinTech company is a culmination of its CEO & Co-Founder Seema Prem's desire for social inclusivity, the freedom of experimenting with cutting-edge AI technology, and her affinity for travel.

FIA now serves over 5 crore people across more than 700 districts, covering over 45,000 villages and 4,600 towns in India and Nepal. FIA is an equal opportunity employer and has more than 4,000 women bank mitras in its network who have been instrumental in bringing people from India's rural sector under the banking umbrella.

FIA Bank Mitra Profile: Shanthi.

Shanthi is a 55-year-old woman hailing from the small village of Paruvai in Tirupur District, Tamil Nadu. She is 10th pass by qualification and has been associated with FIA since December 2011. She is one of the oldest CSPs and has been earning approx. 10K every month. She has opened more than 3000+ bank accounts till date and also manages payments of more than 500+ customers every week under NREGA.

Shanthi joined as a banking correspondent and was appointed as FIA representative for the Bank of Baroda. She has gone door-to-door to help open the accounts of the villagers and has diligently explained to them the process of saving.

Working as FIA CSP for more than a decade, she has built trust and credibility in her village. Now, customers come to her mainly because of this trust and reliability factor.
